A despatch from Governor of the Phillipine Islands to Minister of interior announces that the Spanish forces under General Jovellar and Soler's command have occupied the Island of Yap, the principal one of the Caroline Archipelago. The telegram adds that the occupation was effected without the slightest incident, there being no trace of German authority or garrison on any part of the island.

Negotiations pending between Spain and Germany drag on, although there is every expectation of a speedy settlement.

Public spirit in Spain still irritated. Yesterday more anti-German demonstrations.

FROM OUR BROTHER-EDITOR.

London, July 31st.

The Egyptian Loan is the event of the hour. It was emitted at 95½ in 3 fractions of 3 millions £ each, at London, Paris and Berlin yesterday morning, and at noon Messrs. Rothschild closed the door against further applications, the subscriptions in two hours amounting in this city alone to 91 millions sterling. The greatest irritation is felt, as the stock had risen last evening to 3 per cent. premium, and it is said that a much higher figure might have been obtained if the loan had been issued by calling for tenders. Messrs. Rothschild received only £1,500 commission for the London portion, "besides reasonable expenses;" but if, as the Daily News says, they keep one million for themselves, they will make £30,000 prem. Some of the Vienna papers complain, with much justice, that none of the loan was emitted there, although Austria is one of the guaranteeing Powers.

Yesterday's papers threw fresh light on the failure of the Munster Bank, which has been almost a repetition of the Tipperary Bank affair of 1856. The manager, Mr. Farquharson has bolted, and a large reward is offered for his apprehension, but up to the present all the apprehensions have been with the luckless shareholders, some of whom will be ruined: he had a system of altering drafts on the Union Bank, by making for example £1,000 into £11,000, and as the bank had not been inspected since more than a year, it is difficult to say how much he has embezzled; some say £60,000. This was only in keeping with the Directors, some of whom had overdrawn their accounts £100,000 without security. The bank was begun in 1864 with Mr. M. Dillonas manager, and an assistant being required Mr. Farquharson, then in a bank at Galashiels, was appointed: it seems he has been for some years virtually manager, and about two years ago he instituted a criminal prosecution against one of the clerks for stealing £9,000 in gold, but the evidence was so lame that the jury acquitted the prisoner. On Wednesday the Bank of Ireland refused a further loan of £500,000, as requested by the shareholders, and now there are small hopes of reviving the business. Farquharson is said to have reached Spain, and as you have no extradition in Buenos Ayres he is sure is go there.

There are so many Irish people in your city that some of them will be sure to recognise Farquharson, who will probably settle down on the banks of the Plate under another name. In the meantime, it is advisable for you to be on your guard, as he is said to be a most accomplished "taking" kind of man. If the Police News publish his portrait I must send you a copy.

That venerable antiquarian, Sir Moses Montefiore, died yesterday, at the ripe age of 101, having recently begun his second century. His was a life of active munificence and philanthropy, having retired from his business of banking-broker 61 years ago. His family was Tuscan, but he was born in England. It is a pity that the late Sir James Graham did not live till now, for he took great pains to prove that nobody could live to 100 years, or ever did, since the patriarchal times.

Last night the House of Commons threw out the Amendment of the new Postmaster-General, Lord John Manners, who endeavoured to mutilate the Shaw-Lefevre Sixpenny Telegram Bill, by limiting the message to 3 words. The message may now be 12 words, but this is to include all addresses. I do not know what will be the debate this evening, but I hope it will be interesting, as Dean Dillon and his friends, the Rev. Mr. Flannery and Mr. Harrington of San Pedro, have tickets. It is the first time that I have had the occasion to ask for tickets since the dynamite explosion in the House, but the Speaker made no difficulty, in view of the high social position of the Dean.

Cardinal Moran received the red hat yesterday at the Vatican from the hands of the Holy Father. He is the first Cardinal, south of the Equateur, being Archbishop of Sydney. On Sunday he consecrated, at the Church of Sta. Agatha, attached to the Irish College, the new Archbishop of Dublin, Dr. Walsh. The new Cardinal, a native of the county Carlow, Ireland, will come over for a few days to visit his friends. He is nephew to the late Cardinal Cullen, and is equally suited for a statesman or a Prince of the Church. The Australians have reason to be proud of him.

I suppose "our own correspondent" will give you all the politics and social news, including the Lord Mayor's banquet, at which Lord Salisbury made a good speech. It is really a pity that the Government have among them such men as the Duke of Richmond, Lord John Manners and other old fogeys, who applaud the rubbish that is talked by Mr. William Lowther, Mr. Sampson Lloyd and the like. There is to be a Parliamentary Enquiry on the depression of trade (they mean the fall of prices) and it is proposed to drag in Free Trade, Bimetallism and the King of the Sandwich Islands. Mr. Goschen refused to sit on the committee.

In to-morrow's Contemporary Review appears an article of mine on Gold-supply and Prices, which may interest River Plate readers, so I send you the proof herewith.

You may remember Mr. Wilfrid Blunt, for some time Chargé d'Affaires at Buenos Ayres, and since then famous for his support of the down-trodden "fellahs" on the Nile. It cost him £6,000 to save Araby Pasha from hanging. He is a man of considerable ability and easy fortune, with a rent-roll of £7,000 a-year, and has very properly made up his mind to go into Parliament. It seems strange that 1,500,000 Roman Catholics in this island of Great Britain have but one representative in the House of Commons, the member of Berwick. Mr. Blunt will, I hope, be the second. This morning's papers report a meeting held yesterday at Camberwell, near Hampstead, in his support, adding that he has come forward as a candidate for the constituency in the Conservative interest. Mr. Blunt explained that as a Catholic, he felt that the time had come when the Catholics had far more to look for to the Conservaties of England than to the Radicals, who were taking the place of the old Liberal party in this country. The great battle that they, as Catholics, had now to fight in this country was not the battle of Church against Church, but of religion against irreligion. At the pretent moment the great danger that Catholicism ran in this country was from the actively irreligious tone of the Radical party, who wished to secularise education, and if that was accomplished they all knew what the consequence must be. They had a very good example of what would happen in France, which had become one of the least Catholic countries in Europe, simply because of the education given there to the poor. The Radical party was certainly working for the abolition of religion in this country. Moreover, he felt that Ireland had more to expect from the Conservative than from the Liberals.

The Manchester ship-canal bill has got through another phase: the committee of the House of Commons have agreed to fix the capital at £6,700,000, including £1,700,000 indemnity to Bridgewater and Irwell canal people.

I cannot find any news about the Pellegrini loan.

CURSO FORZOSO DEBATE.

For the first time in this Session, the Rochista party has won the day in Congress, defeating the Celmanista party by so large a majority, and on so important an issue, that the victory in question possesses all the greater significance.

We must say that the triumph of the Rochistas is the triumph of good sense, strict principle, and common justice, since to include in the 'curso forzoso' law a bank started since 'curso forzoso' was declared would be one of the greatest of legislative errors. It is hard enough to stretch the protecting arms of this law over all the provincial and private banks existing in the Interior, but to start new 'curso forzoso' banks, with no other capital than their newly engraved notes, would be the very apogee of error, and we congratulate the country that spite of every political influence there is always a sturdy majority in the Senate prepared to defend the country against such grievous blunders.

The following is a precis of the debate, which will be read with deep interest by all. The bill now goes to the Deputies, but the fight is over, and the victory won. The Entre Riano bank will not be included in the decree, and this bank will have to conduct its business on the same rules as other private banks, and if it issues notes it must pay gold on demand, otherwise it must be liquidated.

Senator Febre opened the debate by remarking that Art. 6, in reference to a similar rate of interest for all the banks, was not explained by the informing member, because he thought it of no importance, whereas he (the hon. Senator) considered it fundamental. He wanted to hear the Committee's reasons for recommending it. It would greatly injure the banks if adopted. It would make the Executive head "boss" of all the banks.

The Minister of Finance said that the Article was already virtually in force by order of the Executive, as, if each bank were allowed to raise or lower its interest at pleasure, the equality in value of the forced currency notes would be destroyed, and monetary anarchy would again ensue. The Article is absolutely necessary to make legal tender a reality. If the Bank of Salta, for instance, wants to raise its interest, it will have to arrange with the other banks there, not with all the banks in the Republic, as some people have thought.

Senators Febre and Rojas here had a sharp exchange of words, and the former made a long speech without saying anything new.

Senator Rocha then sailed in and asked if the Finance Minister had consulted the banks about a uniform rate of interest.

Senator Zelman said the uniform interest existed in fact.

The Finance Minister said he didn't, but the Interventors had been ordered by note to adopt it, since the forced currency was decreed.

Senator Rocha said he was a Director of the Provincial Bank, yet he had never heard of such a note, and the sending of it was irregular.

Here some bantering was indulged in by Senator Rocha, addressed to Senator Rojas and the Finance Minister, who said he did not want to give lessons to Senator Rocha or anybody else. Senator R. said he was always ready to learn a lesson from anybody who could teach him. He then went on to say that he would vote against the Article, as he considered it against banking practice, and of no use. For a long time capital accumulated in the form of money was looked on with horror, and the religious institutions of different countries condemned it. But the science of Economy destroyed all this. It was slow, but certain to impose its precepts. High interest is only the price of capital. If a man gain 20 per cent in cottons nothing is said. Why should he not make it out of capital also if he can? It is a complete delusion to attempt to fix the price of capital. The law of supply and demand rules it. There is no public reason for making a uniform rate of interest, and the Executive should not descend to such petty bookkeeping. Ministers are by no means infallible, and this Article would turn them into banking pontiffs.

Senator Zapata moved a change in the wording (Thrown out).

The House then passed the clause creating a uniform rate of interest all over the Republic.

After a "cuarto intermedio" the Committee presented an Article to the effect that the interest shall be the same all over the country, and cannot be altered except with the consent of all the banks and the Government.

There was a tie involving this Article, and also a bit of fun. Senator Alvear was found to be fast asleep, and when the voting came on jumped up and voted for the article, thanks to a sign from Senator Cambaceres. This mistake of the drowsy Senator produced roars of laughter from the bar and the House, as it decided the vote against the Honble Senator's party.

There was another stiff breeze over Article 10, about granting forced currency to the Bank of Entre Rios. Senator Mendoza asked that the message of the Governor of Entre Rios on the subject be read.

Senator Rocha strongly opposed, as the motion was out of order. A long desultory discussion ensued, and finally the message was allowed to be read.

The Secretary read it. Senator Mendoza then moved that the Entre Rios Bank be allowed forced currency when it has 200,000 nats in its vaults, and it can then emit $400,000.

A sharp interchange of ideas here took place between Senators Rocha and Celman.

The Finance Minister said that the Entre Rios Bank was in a very sound position.

Senator Rocha asked if H.E. spoke in the name of the Government, and the Minister said 'Yes.'

Senator Febre attacked the Bank vigorously. He said the capital had been scraped up from rancho to rancho, and the people of Entre Rios would be the victims. Tremendous confusion here suddenly ensued, and half the Senators were speaking and screeching at the same time.

The Finance Minister said the Entre Rios Bank was in better condition for forced currency than any other in the Republic.

Senator Mendoza said that his jovial colleague Febre was only joking in his description of the Bank.

Senator Febre "I rise to order."

The President here rang his bell with the vigour of a muffin-man, to stop the talking and shouting going on between the Senators on the floor and the numerous Deputies who were in the Strangers' Gallery.

The House divided. The three Juarista Senators Zapata, Nouges and Oliva went over to the enemy, and the Rochistas threw over the Entre Rios Bank by 13 votes to 7.

LAST FROM BRAZIL.

Os Andes e o Corcovado by D. F. Sarmiento. Published by the Corcovado Railway Co. The author is a distinguished Argentine writer, who once introduced a little variety into his occupations by filling the presidential chair of the Argentine Confederation. To his trained and fertile imagination, the opening of a little railway to the top of the Corcovado, a Carioca peak which towers 2,300 feet above the sea, finds fitting parallels in the opening of a railway across the Sierra Nevada to California in 1870 and the recent inauguration of an Argentine transcontinental line to Mendoza, at the foot of the Andes. This two-mile road up the Corcovado opens up a view beside which Chimborazo and the Himalayas sink into insignificance, while in the contemplation of the 4-inch stream at Paineiras the cataract of Niagara pales into obscurity. To the astonished mind of the author, St. Peters and the Escurial are hopelessly dwarfed before these granite hills, while the Bosphorous, St. Lawrence and Rhine struggle weakly against the island-dotted bay beneath. Even the majestic avenue of palms which beautifies the distant Botanical Garden, is accorded precedence over its Platine rival—the palm-lined Sarmiento Avenue of Buenos Ayres. On all sides are the mountains and the ocean, above them the sheltering roof of the railway company's pavillion, and below them—the unexplored mysteries of the Paineiras restaurant. To the unsophisticated tourist, to whom time and $3000 are as the parting breath on his lips, this great engineering work opens a new world of inspiration and praise. He may never look upon Niagara, the Himalayas, the Central Pacific, the Brooklyn Bridge, St. Peter's, or the Sarmiento Avenue; but should he pass within a thousand miles of this fairest of cities, let him look upon the Corcovado pavillion—and die!

A Zoological Garden, virtually under the auspicess of the Villa Izabel tramway, is to be established in the suburb served by the line. A company with a capital of $300,000 has been formed to carry the idea into effect, and, it is stated that, the greater part of the shares have been subscribed.

We regret to hear of the death of Commendador Antonio de Lacerda, which occurred at Bahia on the 2nd inst. The deceased was only 51 years of age, but was widely known throughout the whole empire for his enterprise and liberality. He was educated in the United States and was the warm personal friend of Agassiz and Hartt, both of whom were entertained by him during their visits to Bahia. He was deeply interested in scientific research, and was also connected with several of the most important improvements of Bahia particularly that of the hydraulic elevator whose construction was due principally to his energy and initiative. In his death Bahia loses one of her best and most widely known citizens.

The minister of marine having announced his intention to translate and publish the "International Code of Signals," according to the convention celebrated some years ago with the maritime nations of the world, the Pais of the 11th calls attention to the fact that such a translation was made several years ago, but was not published for want of an appropriation. This translation is now in the department of archives. The publication of this work is unquestionably of great importance, but a second translation can hardly be considered necessary.

In July 650 immigrants arrived at the government station on Ilha das Flores and 667 left, leaving on the 31st 4 at the station. Of the arrivals 490 were males and 160 females; 487 Italians, 78 Portuguese, 41 Germans, etc. Of the departures 263 left for S. Paulo, 160 for Rio Grande do Sul, 96 for Minas Geraes, etc.

Yesterday, in the morning, a sailor of the monitor Javary reported to the officer of the watch that one of the compartments on the starboard bow was leaking. The officer at once gave orders to prevent that the water should entirely fill the compartment. At 4 p.m. the monitor was towed, by advice of Lt. Com. Brazil, naval constructor, to the Imperial dry dock, which it entered at 5.30 p. m.—O Pais, August 7th.

The big life are much exercised over the breach between Messrs. Tamagno and Ferrari, and the latter has been defended by some admirer. But the great tenor hits the nail on the head, by stating in the press that the empresario owes him some 140,000 francs, and he does not see his way to increasing the amount just yet.

The minister of agriculture has opened a credit for £7,000 at the London treasury agency for the payment of passages to about 1,000 immigrants from Hamburg.

A grand sham fight is to come off on the 16th at Sta. Cruz. H. H. the Comte d'Eu will command, and conquerors and conquered are duly appointed.

A physician of S. Paulo, Dr. M. Arruda, claims for the juice of the mangabeira (Hancornia speciosa) great curative properties in pulmonary consumption. The immense mortality caused by this disease all over the empire marks this question one of interest. A drawback to the treatment is that the patient must reside on the spot where the plant grows and take the juice freshly extracted.

The American bark Sarah Doe Capt. Merryman, which left Rio Janeiro on the 10th ult. for New York with a cargo of sundries, called at Pernambuco on the 30th for the purpose of leaving her carpenter who had accidentally cut his foot nearly off on the 25th while hewing a stick of timber. The injured man was left at a private hospital, and the bark continued on her voyage.

IRELAND.

THE MUNSTER BANK FRAUDS.

Dublin, August 3.

The universal topic of conversation in the city to-day is the absconding of the manager of the Munster Bank. Nothing else was talked in the Chamber of Commerce and in the market-places, while in the principal streets groups of gentlemen were seen in eager converse discussing the prospects of the bank, which all admitted were gloomy enough Early this morning the police succeeded in tracing the cabman who had conveyed Mr. Farquharson from the city on Tuesday afternoon to his residence at Leeson-park. The cabman, a man named Reilly, who knew Farquharson well, states that he engaged him in Dame-street in front of Jury's Hotel at half-past two or twenty-five minutes to three on Tuesday afternoon, only a very few minutes after he had left the bank with the promise to return on the following morning, and explain the discrepancies that had been complained of. The cabman at his request drove him to his residence Dromana, 57, Leeson-park, a fine house, for a lease of which he had recently paid £5,000, although it was subject to a rent of £100 a year. Farquharson stayed only a short time in the house, and then came out and re-entered the cab, and directed the man to drive into the city again. He dismissed the cabman within 200 yards of the bank, and at a point where a lane affords a short cut to the back entrance to the bank premises. Here he was seen by a gentleman who talked to him for a few minutes, but Farquharson seemed to be in a hurry, and shortened the interview, proceeding down the lane presumably towards the bank. The gentleman anxious to continue the interview went round by Dame-street, hoping to catch Farquharson at the other end of the lane, and then doubled back and gone in some other direction. He never went near the bank. He probably went to the North Wall, where doubtless he took care not to arrive too soon, and thus lessened the chances of being observed. It would have been unsafe for him to be seen in the locality by any one of the half-dozen people who were by the time aware that there were irregularities which at all events required explanation. Inquiries made of one of the officers on board one North Wall express steamer, the Lily, lead to the conclusion that Mr. Farquharson travelled by that steamer on Tuesday evening. The officer in question on being shown a portrait of Mr Farquharson, at once said that that man crossed on some night this week. He was informed that if he crossed at all it must have been on Tuesday evening, and he still adhered to the opinion he had expressed. He added that throughout the entire voyage from the North Wall to Holyhead the passenger whom he believed to be identical with the man whose portrait was shown to him never ceased walking backwards and forwards, sometimes on deck and at others below. He did not speak to or mix with his fellow-passengers in any way. If the story be true of course the fugitive must have reached London early on Wednesday morning, and might have been in Paris on Wednesday night almost before the warrant for his arrest was issued. He would, in that event, probably make his way as quickly as possible to the Spanish frontier. Detective-superintendent Reddy has taken steps to have a quantity of copies produced of the excellent photograph which he has in his possession—these will be sent to various police stations in the principal towns in the United Kingdom, and copies will also be forwarded to Paris. The following description of the missing official has been telegraphed by the police all over the United Kingdom:—

"Wanted, Robert Farquharson, joint manager of the Munster Bank, Dublin, agent of the Royal Exchange Assurance Company. Disappeared from his office and residence yesterday about noon; about 40 years of age, five feet nine or ten inches in height, average build, dark hair and whiskers and moustache, slightly tinged with grey, fresh complexion, dark eyes, prominent white front teeth, walks with a stoop, dressed in gentlemanly style, generally wears silk hat and frock coat. Is a native of Scotland. The bank offer a liberal reward for his apprehension."

IN CAPTIVITY WITH THE MAHDI.

ESCAPE FROM EL OBEID.

SUFFERINGS OF THE PRIESTS AND NUNS.

THRILLING NARATIVE OF FATHER BONONI.

Cairo, July 13.

When at Wady Halfa I received a telegram stating that Luigi Bononi, chief of the priests of the Italian Mission, who were prisoners at El-Obeid, had escaped. He had several times been offered means of escaping, but refused to avail himself of them, replying to letters sent him that if he escaped alone the rest would be murdered.

I have received from Father Bononi the following narrative of his experiences in captivity with the Mahdi. It is specially interesting as being, I believe, the first account from an eye-witness of the actual doings prior to and after the taking of El Obeid:

The sun had not risen when I, Luigi Bononi, chief of the Latin Mission to Central Africa, with a heart full of gratitude to God who had so far preserved me through perils, great and terrible, still to serve Him, fled from the foul city that had been so long my prison. Alas! I left behind—and my heart was sore at it—my three friends, Giuseppe Orwalder (an Austrian subject), Pado Rosignoli (an Italian), Regnatto and Giuseppe Regnalo. Regnatto was a layman who belonged to our mission. Perhaps I may as well state how it was that I came to be at Obeid.

I was once first parish priest-minister in the diocese of Verona, and in 1873 entered the mission of Central Africa, and went to Khartoum in 1874. I was first missionary in Kordofan, then at Gebel Nuba, and in 1876 superior at El Obeid, from 1877-78-79 superior at Gebel Nuba, and from 1879 to 1881 General Vicar of Bishop Bamel Camboni at Khartoum, and then General Superior of the mission in the countries of Nuba. In May, 1882, I was at Gebel Belim, central seat of mission, among the Nubani when surrounded by the rebels 17th September, and was made prisoner, as well as all the missionaries and 150 soldiers. I was present at the siege of El Obeid, which surrendered 17th January, 1883, when all the prisoners and nuns there were made prisoners. When the Mahdi marched upon Khartoum I was with twelve European surviving members of the mission. The priest, three nuns, and one catechist died of starvation and bad treatment. I, with a mission composed of Padre Yousef, Orwalder, the layman called Giuseppe, Regnalo, a mechanic, Gabriel Madiani also a mechanic, and three nuns established a church at Gebel Deli, three days' journey from Obeid. We succeeded in making 30 liberated slaves embrace Christianity; these we trained to different trades or to farming. We carefully tilled a large quantity of land which we had purchased, and were allowed soldiers as a guard. We now established a mission at Obeid, a priest was at the head, and there were laymen and five sisters. When the Baggara Arabs in the neighbourhood heard of Mahomet Achmet, that he had come to cast off the yoke of the Turks, they at once made ready to join him; they got dangerous, too, and made a fierce attack on our mission. We resisted this attack, and beat them back, and they could not prevail against us. The Blacks who were with us fought well and assisted us greatly. These were the Nubi from the mountains, Aborigines driven up there by the succeeding waves of Arabs that flooded the country after the crusades. They hied them to the mountains, and have never been completely subjugated. We made Christians of some of these. We were environed from the 2nd of April to the end of September, 1882.

About this time, it will be remembered, the army, under command of Yousef Pacha Shellali, marching to the relief of Obeid, was annihilated. The soldiers had found the wells on the previous day's march filled up. On arriving at the next wells their thirst was so great that they at once broke from the ranks and rushed to them. The Arabs were in ambush and slaughtered them all. After this success the Mahdi proceeded to lay siege to Obeid. He first sent an Emir called Mek Omar to attack the mission. This man had orders to put us all to the sword; not one was to escape alive. He had, however, an insufficient force; so he simply sat down before the place, well knowing that thousands of Arabs were on their way to help him. Day after day their number increased. So we, seeing our case hopeless, resolved to collect our cattle and sheep and whatever we had, and leave the station, and make the best of our way to Fashoda; for it would be impossible to get into Obeid, as that town was in a close state of siege. We had fixed to make our move on the 14th of September, 1882; but man proposes, God disposes. A man called Khalel Effi., a military officer, informed the rebels of our intentions. We had foolishly entrusted him with our secret. Thereupon El Mek Omar completely surrounded us, tightening the cordon around, and sent us a summons to surrender, stating if we did not we should be put to the sword. At this juncture, to our misfortune, the officer commanding the Egyptian troops and all his men, who were there to protect us, declared for Mahomet Achmet. Then seizing their rifles and ammunition they passed the zerebas and deliberately went over to the Arabs.

"PACKET REVIEWS."

Aug. 28th, 1885

To the Editor of the STANDARD.

Dear Sir,

Pray give a certain nameless gentleman his due! In your issue of Friday you say:

"We believe that it was the STANDARD that invented the Review system. Imitation is the sincerest flattery."

The first paper that ever issued a Fortnightly Summary, or Review, was the River Plate Times, under the direction of the late Mr. Alfred A. Geary, in the year 1872. As you ought to have observed—"Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery." It is!

Excuse kindly the correction in history and quotation—further, the Italics.

Yours truly,

One of the Editors of the River Plate Times.

[For eleven years before the River Plate Times was started we always published a fortnightly Packet Edition.—ED. STANDARD.]

THE DIP.

Dear STANDARD,

I see in D. G.'s letter in Saturday's paper that he says "the longer the dipper the better." The dipper, as I understand, is the man who dips; but I suppose he means the bath. The longer the better, eh?—to drown the sheep, I suppose. If D. G. puts a gate in the middle of his bath, in order to stop the sheep for the time required, he will find it better than a long bath. As to having men with crutches to rub the dip into the hard scab, as they are passing through the dip, it is a simple impossibility. If the sheep have hard scab, they ought to have it broken before being passed through the bath. D. G. likewise informs the public that he has not seen a decent flock in the country. If he take the trouble to move out of his wire fence, which he has evidently not done for the last twenty years, he will find good sheep on Don Tomas Chas's estancia, Santa Rosa—sheep that have equalled and beaten sheep bred in France. He will also find good flocks at Negretti, Berences, Duportales, Cassares, Campana, etc.

MDME. PATTI'S DIVORCE.

The last formality in the Caux divorce case, was accomplished in Paris lately, at the Mayoralty of the Eighth Arrondissement. It resembled a civil wedding, but with this difference, that the parties were attended by their respective attorneys, and not by their families. Mdme. Patti came in the morning from England, and returned in the evening. Her witnesses were M. Pierre Véron, of the Charivari, and M. Magnard of the Figaro. Those of the M. de Caux were the Comte d'Audlan and M. de Vernihac, a Secretary of Embassy. The disunited pair were shown to fauteuils facing the desk of the sub-mayor, who officiated, and were separated from each other by a row of chairs. The divorce decree being read, the officiating magistrate asked M. de Caux whether he persevered in desiring its execution. An affirmative naswer being given, a record was made and signed by the Marquis and Mdme. Patti.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The steamer Hogarth sails to-morrow for England, home and beauty, and the clipper Steamer Sud America sails on 3rd, letters to be delivered in London on or about 21st inst if not sooner. On the following 4th inst., the Archimedes sails for New York, and on the same day the R. M. S. Tamar sails for Southampton. People who have to write letters have now ample notice and ample time. The Sud America is, of course, the letter writing steamer.

Yesterday was the most prodigious Bolsa day on record. Never since poor Mr. Garay first sailed up the Riachuelo, was there such a day on 'Change. They say that a million of gold Dollars were brought up from Montevideo, and were it not for that the whole concern would have caved in, and there would have been a crash that would have re-echoed throughout Europe We give full particulars in our on 'Change column.

We commend to our lady readers the last number of the Graphic with all about Princess Beatrice's wedding. We note that when the bridegroom started with his bride for Quarr Abbey, where they spent the honey-moon, he had a tall white hat on, very similar to some well known white hats in this city.

We regret to announce the death of Canon Piñero, who died in Cordova yesterday. We knew him well, and last April when in Mendoza we visited him at the old convent where we found him in very infirm health; we spent a pleasant hour conversing with him and taking mate. He was a man of vast experience and well informed, but the sands of his life glass were fast passing away and well he knew it.

We are always glad to chronicle the progress of the "Express Agency" on account of the spirit and pluck of its management. The Leibnitz passengers with their Lares and Penates were taken off to the last stick, and the Tamar's gold and passengers' luggage were conveyed from the Boca, where they were landed, and handed over to the Express Agency, being then forwarded to their different destinations. We understand there is still some slight difficulty with the boatmen, but the malcontents are in an extreme minority.

Rev. Dr. James Smith will preach on Sunday next at 12 o'clock at the Livingston Estancia, district of Lobos.

Santa Rosa put in an appearance about 2 o'clock on Sunday morning and went in for some specially loud thunder and a good dash of rain. That's all. The day was glorious. Yesterday morning there was another sprinkle. In Banda Oriental they had a very respectable storm; rivers within measurable distance of overflowing, roofs blown off, and all the usual things. Not a soul hurt.

The swallows and mosquitoes have come, and our fashionable reporter tells us that 'las familias' are going as the correct thing this year will be not to be seen in town after the 15th September. This is aping London. What a much pleasanter place Buenos Ayres was before all this ridiculous High Life nonsense was, imported from London and Paris!

The Scientific Society went to the Boca on Sunday to see the dredges at work; but, although the river was as calm as a mill pond, they all got sea sick and had to return to shore, where some sandwiches and stiff brandy and water soon restored the votaries of science. Scientific men may have fine heads, but they have miserable stomachs.

"Absit omen!" When Princess Beatrice was starting on her honeymoon, one of the leaders to her carriage fell, dragging the other horse with him. They had to be unyoked, and the carriage proceeded with only two horses. The New York papers are full of most laughable chaff about the bridegroom. They call him "that beggarly German princeling Prince Batterpudding," and predict that his Royal mother-in-law will 'boss' him to her heart's content, just like meaner mother-in-laws have done ever since they were invented.

Our Industrial Club must be helping native industry in the Mount as well as here. The wines now sold down there in the grocers' shops are so poisonous that the Municipality is going to start a Chemist and have them examined periodically as here.

"On dit" that Governor Derqui of Corrientes is going to the Supreme Feral Court, vice Dr. Laspiur deceased. Grand thing for Corrientes if he is.

Rosario eats about 80 oxen and 230 sheep per diem. This is very poor eating for 30,000 people, and explains why Rosario men general look so like Cassius.

There won't be a man left in Peru if some foreign Power does not step in and stop the civil war there. The conquering Chile is unable to do so, as she is on the broad of her back, and likely to remain so for many a long day, as wheat and copper are not likely to rise much in price. In one of the recent scrimmages a Government commander shot himself because his men were beaten. This idiotic proceeding is thoroughly racy of the soil.

"We read (says the New York World) that when a farmer's team got stuck in a swamp, he began to play a lively tune upon an accordion, and the mules lumbered up under the inspiration of the music, and yanked that wagon out of the hole and towards home at a rattling rate. We have no doubt of it. The mule that wouldn't burst itself in an effort to get away from such a fiendish attack upon its ears may have been born, but we doubt it. Self-preservation is as strong a feeling in animals as in men."

Our Iberian friends are very angry with Dr Ortiz for not allowing them to hold a public meeting to abuse the Germans and declare old Spain to be the apple of Creation's eye. The Minister did perfectly right, and his note to the Chief of Police was full of sound sense. It is rather amusing to witness the cool indifference of the Germans in contrast with the fiery patriotism of the Spaniards. The latter have behaved very pluckily (barring King Alfonso) in the matter, and it should now be let drop.

It appears there is room for a lot more beds in San Roque Hospital, and the vice Lord Mayor has ordered them to put in at once.

The Salmon unpleasantness between Senator Zapata and the editor of the Debates is over. The honourable Senator has witdrawn from the prosecution. So very much best.

Miss Arden has learned Spanish and is going to appear shortly at the Opera House in Spanish plays with Our Dan, who is, really, barring Mr Gladstone, the most many-sided man, young, old, or middle-aged that we know.

A Pall Mall affair is reported by a rascally Italian who deceived and betrayed a beautiful young girl who came out in the Napoli. Her uncle was in town to meet her, but, by a mischance, missed her. Some of the outrages described by our London colleague were enacted to the letter on this poor girl in this city. She is now restored to her uncle, but morally and physically shattered, although only fifteen years of age.

The cholera must be "real bad" at Marseilles. Sixty thousand people have fled from the city.

La Demarchi, of the Colon company, is a very talented artist who sang in Barcelona with Gayarre with the greatest success. She will take her benefit this week, and it ought to be a bumper.

The Skating Rink is to be turned into a circus, and means to try to take the coal off the pipe of the Politeama in that line. The latter theatre is also being altered inside, and has no longer the rough-and-tumble and general 'oi polloi" appearance it used to have. Outside it is as unwashed as ever.

Here's something for our lady friends:—"Etamine has taken in London quite as much as it has in Paris. At all the fashionable garden parties étamine dresses are to be seen in numbers. In many cases the étamine is combined with a skirt of woollen lace.

The Zoophiles are doing very good work in Rosario now. The cartmen up there are even more brutal than in B. Ayres (which is saying a very great deal for their inhumanity) and scarcely a day passes that some of them are not 'hauled' and fined, at the instance of some zealous member of the Z. Society.

More of it. The War Minister, Dr Ortiz, has flatly refused to give 1,000 Nats. worth of what are euphoniously called 'viveres de distincion' to the gunboat Uruguay, for her trip to Montevideo with Minister Victorica. Three cheers for Dr Ortiz.

A little town up in New York has a skating-rink that they call Niagara. It is supposed that they call it so because the people go there to see the falls.

The Convencion of Cañada de Gomez says that the Gefe Politico there does not know how to read or write! Ye gods!

Mr Eloy Palacios has been named Manager of the Provincial Bank of Santa Fé, vice Mr John Dun, who resigned some time ago.

Telephones are the best lightning conductors possible, and the wires on the roofs are a source of safety instead of danger. This has been declared by the highest scientific authorities in Europe. Nevertheless, we say to such of our subscribers—never whisper what thou feelest through a telephone during a thunderstorm. Remember the German at Barracas who got a flash of lightning down his throat. He said he rather liked it, but can't believe him.

"Are you any relation to my sister?" asked little Johnnie. He blushed and stammered until the young ladie; taking pity on him, solved the matter by saying: "No; but you'd like to be, wouldn't you, Alfred?"

Mrs Palma of Moron asks the favour of some information about her only son Lucio Palma. The poor old lady has not seen him for 30 years.

Tickets for the grand Christmas Lottery in Spain, the largest in the world, have already come out. The big prize is £100,000; the second £80,000; third £40,000; fourth £30,000; fifth £20,000; two of £10,000; three of £5,000; four of £3,200 and so on. The lowest prize is £50, and the price of the tickets is £20 each. There are sundry combinations and chances for winning unknown in South American lotteries.

Mr Petty C.E., chief engineer of the works on the new Entre Rios Railway, is now in Concepcion with 200 navvies, to commence them. Mr Petty is the right man in the right place, and there is nothing petty about him.

The Germans have evidently an eye on South America, at least that greatest of all Germans, Bizzy, has. A Hamburg company is going to buy from Chile the seltpetre mines of Tarapaca, eleven of them. Some day soon there will be a Carolinas' question in this part of the world, East or West Coast; perhaps both. Paraguay is another place that is marked for Teutonization.

Whew! The Rosario Telephone Co. has 700 subscribers and 90 miles of wire. Santa Fé and Coronda are now joined to Rosario; and the telephones are so perfect that even the deaf and dumb can enjoy a chat through them, just like Mr Keyser's telephone in our office. Hurrah for Captain Mantont!

The weather in the Cordillera is simply awful. Four cow-herds were recently frozen to death while driving a herd of cattle worth 30,000 pats from this country to Chile. The unfortunate fellows were all married men with families. One of them has left 8 little orphans. The owner of the cattle, Sr Juojoso, had his whole fortune embarked in the venture, and it is feared the cattle are lost.

The Rosario police are a miserable lot. They 'ran in,' the other day, an old lady of 70 years of age because she held on like grim death to some furniture belonging to a lady lodger of hers who wanted to be off without paying her rent and board. The Gefe de Policia, when he heard of it, immediately released the old woman; bnt she was so put about by the affair that she has been on the broad of her venerable back in bed ever since; and "quien sabe" if she won't require a coffin before the week is out.

We commend the following remarks of a New York colleague to all the gas managers in town:—

"The grasshopper has proportionally one hundred and twenty times the kicking power of man. A gas company seldom imposes on a grasshopper. The soulless corporation knows whom to oppress."

Private Ward, during the Zulu war, writes:—"I should just like you to see the real farmhouse bread that I bake! The oven is one dug in the ground, and is just large enough to hold our daily quantum of two loaves. We use flour, water, salt, and BORWICK'S BAKING POWDER. Nat. Bank Shares 146

The gold market opened to-day at an early hour and with all the feverish symptoms that accompany an important settlement. The day dawned with the greatest uncertainty, and the first skirmishes of the speculation pointed to a heavy rise, but the gold from the Banks came to the rescue and prevented the market from rising to any great extent. One of the most efficient speculative weapons in the hands of the bears is the interest paid in passing operations from one month to another. This morning the bulk of these operations was passed at 2½ to 3 points. Such a tremendous difference brought immense amounts of gold on the market. All the Banks opened their vaults and lent metal freely at very high rates. One Bank lent to one of the cliques half-a-million dollars, and all lent more or less heavily. Gold came down from the Mount for the liquidation, and Montevidean exchange was offered this morning at 1 o/o discount. Holders of gold reaped a splendid harvest to-day.

Although such large amounts of gold were thrown on the market, in view of the differences paid in backwardation, it was remarkable to note how the market was held up. The bullish speculation evidently rests on very sound foundations, to judge by to-day's settlement. The liquidation, we may say, began in the middle of last week, but, viewed in any light, it must be confessed that the situation has been mostly tided over and that the tug of war has been postponed to the end of September. The day of reckoning is merely put off; at least, this is a very current opinion in the market.

The 'vencimientos' amounted to 21 million gold dollars, for operations transacted during official hours. If we add on business effected during afterhours, we may calculate the total 'vencimientos' of the month at 40 million National dollars. This is the heaviest gold settlement on record and beats all recollections of the gold speculation in the former crisis. It looks, however, as if the month of September will eclipse August in importance. The bulls promise to make matters lively, as the bulk of this month's speculation has been passed to September. The sales already effected for next month may be calculated at a minimum figure of 5 millions.

The bears to-day shuddered at the thought of what would have happened, if the Banks had not lent their gold. Many examined their conscience, as they noted the comparatively insignificant effect of the tremendous differences that were being paid in passing operations to September. A difference of three points per month should have covered the floor of the Bolsa with gold sovereigns, and it is quite evident that, if the market had not been swamped with gold, it was for the plausible reason that some of the largest holders of gold were greedy enough to expect even higher rates. This became apparent immediately after the close of official hours, when gold was offered on 'passing' operations on all sides.

The speculation for a fall has yet to weather the threatening prospects of next month, and the bulls are already sharpening their wits how to prepare another trap for their opponents. It may happen that the heavy bulls are inclined to let go at present prices, but this is impossible, as they hold the key-note of the September speculation. The bulls, however, may make a feint, and sell in order to deceive the market and lead the bears into deeper waters. This month's operation leaves no doubt as to the power and elements in the hands of the clique operating for a rise.

The brunt of this morning's contest was for cash and, under ordinary circumstances, the great plethora of gold might have shaken the bullish speculation to its foundation. The great bulk of cash transactions were closed at 46, while operations for the end of September were effected at an average of 43½ and 44. The average difference during the morning, from one month to another, was 2½, but large operations were transacted at 3. Operations for cash embraced $1,541,000. The market opened at 46, rose rapidly to 47, fluctuated nearly all morning at these rates, and closed at 45. About four hundred thousand dollars were sold for the end of next month. Rates opened at 44, rose to 44½, and closed at 43. The market closed with a weak feeling all round, but there was an under-current of firmness in the speculation. About two million dollars were sold during official hours.

The two hundred thousand sovereigns of the R.M.S. Tamar were landed to-day, and the bullion of the Leibnitz, to the amount of £200,000, has gone to the Mint, where it will soon be transformed into shining Argentines. Gold "conformes" of the National Bank were in nearly everybody's hands to-day, and the fact led to the conclusion that the bank had sold gold to-day and on Saturday. It looks far more plausible that the bank has lent the gold, as it is sheer madness to sell the coin in the present condition of the market. The Board of the Bank ought to know that there is plenty of paper to take up all the gold it has received by the Tamar and Leibnitz and that the effect of this gold in the speculation can only be temporary.

Business in stocks and shares ruled dull. Cedulas E changed hands for cash at 80½ to 80¾ and F From 79½ to 80½ and G at 87. National Bank Shares were sold at 146, and Certificates changed hands for cash at 97.

The exchange market shows no alteration. The money market is easy. All the banks were crowded to-day with brokers and customers. The amount of gold cheques on 'Change to-day was excessive and showed the gigantic growth of the speculation. If the banks had refused to lend gold to-day, the bulls believe that they could have carried the premium to 60 o/o.

On Saturday evening the first General Meeting of shareholders of the Filadelfia Estancia Company was held in the rooms of the Sociedad Rural, and it was unanimously decided, in view of the large number of shares subscribed for, that operations be immediately commenced. The Board of Directors was only elected, and is composed of the following members:—Chairman, H. O. Fielding; Directors, A W Percy, Dr. George B. Newland; Hon. Sec. and Treasurer, L B Trant. New subscriptions can only be received till the 15th inst, which is the date fixed for the payment of all shares. The offices are at No. 35 Calle San Martin.

We recommend to all a perusal of Mr F. L. Balbin's new work La Bolsa. It will be read with interest by all connected with commercial matters; the writer enjoys the reputation of being one of the best authorities in this market on such subjects.

It was said on 'Change to-day that over half a million dollars gold came from Montevideo to meet the wants of the settlement. All this gold has secured splendid interest, and it is probable that the influx next month will also be considerable, as the want of gold in Montevideo will only be felt towards November.

The following is a summary of operations effected this morning at the ring during official hours:—

Over three million dollars gold were handed to the liquidator to-day. This large amount of gold was withdrawn by the bulls. This is one of the largest deliveries on record, and the fact of the bulls taking up all this gold shows the strong elements on which they rely. The question is now, what will they do with all this gold? If it does not go back to the banks, there will be a stand-from-under feeling in all quarters. The market is uncovered, and the bulls are masters of the field. The banks, the bears, the houses, and outsiders have sold, and the bulls stand alone with their pockets full of gold checks.

The following was the total delivery over the liquidator's counter:

Gold	3,046,245$m/n
Cedulas F	210,000
Cedulas G	179,000
Shares	4,985
Scrip	4,000

The exchange market fell to 47d. this afternoon, and brokers expect a further decline to-morrow, as the pressure of the liquidation is over.

The dividend of the Old Gas Company was paid to-day at the rate of $4 m/n per Share, equal to 19½ per cent per annum. This is the second dividend of the present year.

The gold market ruled very active during afterhours. The market opened with a weak feeling, but it soon became apparent that gold was scarce and the premium rose from 45 to 47. About one million dollars changed hands before four o'clock. At a quarter past four the liquidator called an auction in the midst of the greatest excitement. All thought that hundreds of thousands would be bought in, but the auction amounted to 13,000$ only, sold for account of the liquidation at 44, closing price of the market for cash, and 43 to 43½ for the end of September.

The cattle-king bought about six hundred thousand dollars to-day. During afterhours he bought four hundred thousand at 47.

Mr. Milligan, of the leading firm of Milligan & Williamson, who has arrived from England, was welcomed on Change. It is nine years now since his last visit to the River Plate, and he finds many great changes.

Advices from the South report great rains down there, and in some parts the camps are flooded. We hear that the works of the Mar del Plata branch railway are all but stopped, owing to the whole country being under water. The camps South of Bahia Blanca, on the Colorado, San Blas, Bahia Union, and Rio Negro are all in splendid condition, and cows and sheep doing well.

Respecting the complaint which we published the other day about the Hospital water of San Roque being let out on the street, forming a corrupting quagmire in Calle Belgrano, We received a note from the Municipality to-day stating that the matter would be enquired into, and the nuisance stopped.

The sale of four leagues of land in the Province of Cordoba, about ten leagues West of the frontier line of Santa Fé, is reported at 8,000 m/n per league. This land lies about 20 leagues West of the colonies, and the price is considered a splendid one for camp out there.

The report of the Belgian Venado Tuerto Estancia Company for 1884 has arrived in the R. Plate, and the pamphlet is so voluminous that, at a first glance, the reader would be led to suppose that the lengthy contents referred to a company representing millions. When we see such a lot of ink and paper wasted on the report of a company, with a paid-up capital of $150,000, we are reminded of the polite injunction of a British Premier who, tired of reading the voluminous correspondence of the British representative at Darmstadt, requested a greater economy in sealing wax. The Belgian company possess four leagues of fenced land, adjoining Mr. Runciman's large estate, in Venado Tuerto. Owing to the large increase of stock, they are now obliged to rent two leagues of land from Mr. Lett at 50,000 $ per annum. The stock of the company is as follows:—

8,101 head of cattle
163 horses
4,449 sheep

We beg to inform our Belgian friends that this year they will be obliged to rent two more leagues of land, next year four leagues, and so on, to keep up with the increase of stock. Far better for the shareholders to take advantage of the present depreciation in the currency and to buy five more leagues of land in the vicinity of their estancia. It is sublimely ridiculous to see a foreign company reduced to four leagues of land. The fall in the value of stock and in rates of exchange has necessarily injured the company, and the dividend for 1884 only amounts to 6 o/o, although the cattle gave 24 o/o and the sheep 50½ o/o. On the other hand the shareholders must remember that this loss is amply compensated by the great increase in the value of the land. But the company must understand that on their present basis of four leagues of land they can do little and cannot expect much. They need ten leagues of land at least for their stock, and it would be well, if they secured the land at present prices.

The following extract from the London Economist will be read with interest. The Santa Fe colonists will be delighted with the prospects of a rise in wheat:—

"On the Continent of Europe the wheat crop is generally the best of the year; but it is estimated at a little under average in France, and at about average in other countries of Western Europe together; while in South Russia all crops have been nearly ruined by drought. The rye crop in Germany and Austria is a very poor one, and as rye is extensively used in these countries for bread, there will be an extra drain upon wheat in consequence. In the United States, as is well known, the wheat crop is one of the worst produced for many years. The most trustworthy estimates of the total produce vary from 300,000,000 to 360,000,000 bushels, a little above or below the home consumption, so that the surplus from previous crops, estimated by Bradstreet's at 95,000,000 bushels, is supposed to be the utmost quantity available for export in the new cereal year. In Canada the crop is expected to be above average; but this will not materially affect the world's supply. The Australasian crop turned out less than that of last year, and the Indian produce is officially stated to be about up to average. It is certain that the world's wheat supply for consumption during the next twelve months will be much less than that of the last cereal year; but at present markets are entirely uninfluenced by any prospect of diminished supplies in the somewhat remote future, buyers looking only at the large stocks on both sides of the Atlantic and at the heavy shipments still on passage to this country."

Messrs Oostendorp & Co., in their important produce circular, give the following, under date Antwerp, August 3rd, 1885:—

Wool—
Imports, 1,500 bales River Plate.
Sales by private contract—
1,100 bales R. Plate
100 bales miscellaneous.
Stock, 27,100 bales B. Aires
17,400 bales Montevideo
100 bales Entre Rios
11,400 bales miscellaneous.

Business has been little important up to the opening of the 3rd series of our periodical auctions which began an 28th July and are to close on 8th August.

The five sittings held so far gave following result:—

Offered.	Sold.
Bales.	Bales.
4,951 Buenos Aires, ...	2,587
4,948 Montevideo, ...	2,517
243 Miscellaneous, ...	12
10,142	5,116

Although the attendance is numerous, there is little disposition evinced to buy notwithstanding that prices show following decline on April rates:—

About 15c for Montevideo lambs and fine fleece wool.
10c for medium and secondary Montevideo wool.
10c for B. Ayres wools in general.

The home and German traders are chiefly operating, whereas the French and Dutch consumers are very reserved.

The quotations for Buenos Ayres invoices, averaging a 1ª, are:—

F. 1.55-1.70 for special fine stapled fabric wools, 38-42 o/o yield.
F. 1.35-1.45 for fine wools 35-36 o/o
F. 1.20-1.30 for good wools 33-34 o/o
F. 1.00-1.05 for medium wools 30-31 o/o
F. 0.90-0.95 for good medium lambs 31-32 o/o
Fair Montevideo shipments, averaging a 2ª, 40 o/o yield, are worth f.1.35

Scoured wool stands in at about fs.3.25-50 for secondary, fs.3.75 for medium, fs.3.75-4.00 for good to fine, fs.4.00-4.25 for superior fine stapled Buenos Ayres 1ª, and fs.3.25-50 for fair Montevideo 1ª (washing and all expenses excluded).

Sheepskins—
Stock, 401 bales.
Sales, 81 bales at a decline corresponding to that established in the neighbouring markets.
Buenos Aires invoices of mat. skins, ¾ to full wool, averaging a 1ª, are worth nominally f.1.15-25 for good quality, and f.0.85-1.00 for average.

Wheat—
Rules very quiet.
Quotations are:—fs.16 to 17 for secondary and fs.17½ to 18½ for good to fine R. Plate per 100 kilos.

Linseed—
Is in steady request at last rates.
R. Plate on spot has been paid between fs.24½-25½ per 100 kilos according to condition, whereas the quotation to arrive is about fs.25½ c.i.f. (with the 4 o/o clause).

Maize—
Is very dull.
Fine River Plate on spot is worth about fs.12; the c.i.f. quotations are about fs.10½ to fs.10½ for quality "telle quelle" and fs.11½ for good quality guaranteed per 100 kilos, but there is little desire shown to operate.
